1. On 9 April 1954, there was a conference in East Berlin on the status of the planning work for the briquette factory at Konin in Poland. The conference was attended by representatives of the Projektierungs- und Konstruktionsbüro (PKB) "Kohle" and representatives of the Konstruktions- und Montageabteilung (KMA) [redacted]. The representatives of PKB "Kohle" stated that a Polish delegation had informed them that the briquette factory at Konin was not to be built on the basis of designs delivered so far.

2. The following was agreed at the conference: KMA will [redacted] of the briquette factory at Konin on 30 April 1954, as scheduled. The [redacted] designs will be delivered so they can be used at another place. Work on designs for the foundation of the briquette factory, which were about 25 percent completed, will be discontinued immediately.

3. The brown coal originally scheduled to be furnished to the briquette factory is to be made available to the power station at Konin. Source believes that this measure indicates an expansion of the power plant by nearly 100 percent.
